*d. OS TEMPEST Division is coordinating a multi-agency effort to re-package the Honeywell Video Synchronizer to be used in specialized TEMPEST testing. A review of the new Video Synchronizer (designed for displaying TEMPEST signals on a TV screen) was held 10 December between TEMPEST representatives, Navy, Air Force, Army, NSA, and FBI. A commitment to procure a minimum of 68 units was made during the conference. Contract negotiations with Honeywell are proceeding. [redacted]

*e. On 16 December, OS personnel attended a briefing by IBM Federal Systems Division in Washington, D.C. The purpose of the briefing was to discuss a number of recent IBM computer security initiatives that could be very useful to the Intelligence Community. OS will schedule another briefing by the IBM representatives to discuss the use of these products within the Agency. [redacted]

*f. On 17 December, OS personnel met with representatives from OD&E and Eastman Kodak (EK) to discuss EK's implementation of their VAX (Digital Equipment Corp. mainframe computer) network security plan. EK is proposing to support two NFIB member agencies on a VAX-based network to process National Program data in the System High mode of operation. [redacted]

STAT

g. As part of the ongoing Current Security Issues briefing program, OS representatives met with 30 staff employees from DDO/IMS on 11 December, to discuss computer threats and vulnerabilities. [redacted]
